

Student profile : Mechanics Engineering (ME)

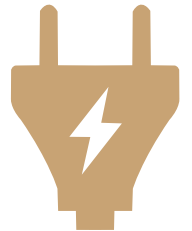

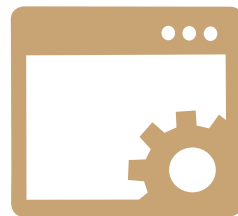

This department is training superior technicians in industry that opens to several jobs such as automobile, naval and aeronautics construction, environment, energy, ...

A ME student is able to design and create machines and tools that will adapt to any industry. They are also able to work in teams to elaborate plans and projects.

Strong points :

- Multiple fields compatible
- Passionate of technologies
- Professional behavior
- Good in physics
- Design sense
- Aware of some web languages (SQL, ...)

These students can provide several engineering solutions to your business and improve your productivity. They are also likely to create models and drafts to improve your products or machines.